

Haley Banashefski
Newsletter Article

On January 10th, Manjri Gupta will be presenting her insightful thoughts during her presentation “Guiding Your Students,” which will touch on time management, stress, and test anxiety. Mrs. Gupta is the Director and owner of Chyten Educational Services in South Hills. Her educational background includes an undergraduate degree in Chemistry and an MBA in Finance. Her career began in corporate finance and then progressed to consulting work for Fortune 500 companies on their accounting and financial processes.

Mrs. Gupta values education more than anything. She believes in “all-round development and enrichment in student lives,” and stated that the most gratifying part of her job is “when a student is able to successfully meet his or her academic goals.” Mrs. Gupta’s experience in consulting with large companies on accounting and financial processes, along with her passion for helping students reach their full potential, contribute to her development of strategies which assist students in time management, stress, and test anxiety. Some students require the extra attention that Chyten offers to reach their top potential, and the care that Mrs. Gupta expresses for her students is truly remarkable and inspiring.

When she is not running her business, Mrs. Gupta is an active member in her community. She is involved in the Chamber of Commerce, BNI, and she volunteers as a teacher for Junior Achievement. She lives in Upper St. Clair with her husband and thirteen year old daughter. Balancing her family, her volunteer efforts, and her business certainly keeps her busy, but it is evident that she is successfully living up to her life’s motto, which is a quote from Gandhi: “Be the change you wish to see in the world.”