Lucy wanted a bird for her birthday. The whole family went to the pet shop.

"There must be a hundred birds here!" said Thomas, her little brother. It seemed like that to Lucy, too. She looked and looked.

"I want a different sort of bird than all of these," she said.

Finally, Lucy found the one she wanted. It was a cute little parakeet with green feathers and small bright eyes.

Lucy carried the parakeet home very carefully. She named him Billy. Lucy told Dad, "I chose a parakeet because they can learn to talk. I'm going to teach him!"

"It will take Billy a while to learn," smiled Dad.

Larry's Baby Boa

“How was Pet Day at school?” asked Lori's mom.

“It was okay, but Peepers got chocolate pudding all over him.” Lori held up her pet parrot to show her mother. “Nick’s dog knocked over our lunch table. The chocolate pudding sprayed all over us!”

“How did Nick’s dog knock over the table?”

“He was running away from Trouble, Matt’s ferret,” Lori explained. “Boy, is that ferret fast! After that, Isabel gave Trouble a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. She wanted to see if it would stick his mouth shut.”

“Then what happened?” her mom asked.

“Well, Trouble sneezed. The sneeze scared Larry's baby boa, so it wound itself around Mrs. Jeffrey's leg. She screamed and ran around the room, trying to shake him off. Then Charlene's monkey jumped onto Mrs. Jeffrey's shoulder.”

“Oh, my goodness!” her mother said. “So how did she get the boa off her leg?”

“Oh, the monkey swung down and threw it into the air. It landed in Isabel's hair.”

“I suppose Mrs. Jeffrey will never allow you to bring your pets to school again,” said Lori's mom.

“Oh no,” said Lori. “She told us to bring them all back again tomorrow!”
