Duck put the map in her favorite purple bag. After a yummy breakfast on Friday, Duck got her bag ready, and waddled to the bus stop. "I need to go to the city," she told the hippo driving the bus. "You can sit here at the front," he said. Duck got off the bus in the city. She reached in her bag for the map, but it was not there. "Oops! I must have left my map on the bus because I can’t find it," she said to the hippo driving the bus. He looked high, low, and all around on the bus. "I’m sorry," he said. "I can’t find any map. There is nothing here."

Duck sat on a bench. "Oh dear," she said, "how will I find Dog’s place?"

Read the Story

When you see a lake or an ocean, do you want to know what is under the water? Many people do. So they learn how to dive down into the water. They take lessons to scuba dive. The lessons teach safe ways to dive and swim under water.

Scuba divers use scuba gear. The gear they wear is a face mask, a wet suit, a belt, and swim fins. Scuba divers can dive from 60 to 130 feet down. They can stay under water because they have an air tank. They use the air in the tank to breathe.

With one air tank a diver can stay under water for one hour. There are many things to do under water. Some scuba divers work under the water. They fix ships or look for lost treasures. Other divers study the ocean. Many dive just for the fun of watching fish.
