

Vocabulary Master List

7th Grade

Unit 1

novice	a beginner procrastinate	to delay or put off something embark	to begin a trip or journey cease	to put an end to or stop saga	long story about a hero sleuth	a detective
coy	shy or quiet irk	to bother or irritate someone meander	to wander idly with no destination in mind mayhem	situation of great confusion ransack	to search a place thoroughly but wildly caterwaul	to screech or wail like a cat

Unit 2

chortle	to laugh or chuckle merrily baffle	to confuse or puzzle malady	disease or illness ample	having plenty of space hodgepodge	jumble or mess veranda	open porch often with a roof monopolize	to get total control of unassuming	humble, down to earth loot	to steal from homes or stores deadpan	unanimated, without expression bland	dull in taste or boring steadfast	firm, steady, and unchanging

Unit 3

devour	to eat quickly limelight	center of attention hesitate	to stop and wait for a moment glower	to give a hard angry frown flabbergasted	to be overcome with surprise whisk	to remove something quickly saunter	to stroll in an aimless way clamber	to climb awkwardly using the hands and feet labyrinth	maze, web, or tangle apprentice	one who learns a trade by working for one already skilled wring	to force by twisting with the hands collide	to crash together with force

Unit 4

klutz	clumsy awkward person slothful	lazy or slow indifferent	not at all interested grapple	to struggle closely with something orb	anything ball shaped plod	move in a slow heavy way veteran	one with a lot of experience incomparable	matchless or beyond compare

Unit 5

girth	measurement around the middle of something miniscule	extremely small, tiny catty	something nasty or hurtful flit	to flutter quickly from place to place peerless	without an equal zeal	strong, deep enthusiasm mirth	happiness and merry fun eminent	well known, highly respected gape	to stare with a wide open mouth in surprise rendezvous	meeting or appointment two people set superlative	the very best and of the highest quality zany	funny in a clownish way