Mr. Miro invited us into his living room. We all sat	11
down and I told him my idea. I wanted to plant trees	23
on the lots to make our play area more like a park.	35
"That's a great idea, Jackson. This city needs more	44
parks!" said Mr. Miro.	48
That afternoon, Mom helped me write a letter.	56
That evening, we delivered the letter to all the	65
apartments near the lots.	69
Mr. Miro has kindly agreed to let us plant trees on	80
his vacant lots.	83
If you can donate a tree, please bring it to the lots	95
at 2:00 P.M. this Saturday.	100
Finally, Saturday arrived. People came with small	107 trees. One man even brought two. He had found a	117
bargain at a tree sale—two for the price of one.	128
All the neighbors started digging. The children	135
already knew each other. The parents exchanged	142
names and got to know each other, too.	150

Narrator: It is a nice day so Dave, 8
Jane, Mom, and Dad are going to have 16
a picnic in the park near their house. 24
They take their dog, Jake. 29
Jake: Yap, yap, yap! 33
Jane: Don't tug on the leash, Jake. 40
Oh, no! Jake is running away! 46
Dave: Come back, Jake! You might get lost. 54
Jane: Jake always comes when he hears his name. 63
Let's call him. 66
All: Jake! Jake! Come back, Jake! 72
Narrator: Jake did not come back. 78
The family did not know where he had gone. 87
Jane: I know how to get Jake to come back. 97
He likes to run and chase after me. 105
Mom: Jake! Come and chase Jane! 111
